The song was written in 1969 during those infamous Let It Be sessions and was even penned around the time Harrison temporarily quit the band as the bad blood between the group began to boil over. While the group continued on without the guitarist, hoping he would return as he did, the songs that Harrison was writing at the time were showing huge potential for him to become an imposing figure in music.

Song George Harrison wrote about him and Paul McCartney

McCartney and his family returned to London shortly before Christmas 1969, and he started work on the album at his home in Cavendish Avenue, St John's Wood. The recordings were carried out on a recently delivered Studer four-track tape recorder, without a mixing desk, and therefore without VU displays as a guide for recording levels. McCartney described his home-recording set-up as "Studer ...
